As upperclassmen of Washington, the Seniors are the guiding force in arousing the Panther Spirit during the weekly pep assemblies.

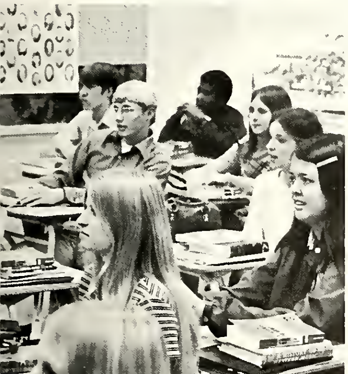
Car washes are considered a popular way to have fun if one enjoys being sprayed with a hose and wearing water drenched shoes.

MEMORIES of our days as we go EVER ONWARD

Throughout our four short years at Washington we have accumulated a vast amount of memories. These memories include all of the events that happen around our school: paper drives, car washes, and bake sales. Most of these memories began when we were Freshmen. That was the year we began a new way of life, that of a high school student. We made new friends, met new teachers, joined some clubs, and officially became Panthers.

As Sophomores we no longer got booed during assemblies. It was also our last year of being underclassmen. When we became Juniors we also became part of the upperclass. These memories included receiving our class rings and our first prom. As Seniors we acquired the position of the leaders of the school. We enjoyed our class party and our Senior Prom. We ended our high school career with graduation. Now, we move EVER ONWARD.

Class discussions, movies, and individual reports are just a few of the experiences that stimulate the students interest.



Administration Leads Panther Spirit

Tradition and dedication stressed at Washington

Dedication and loyalty is shown through our administration by their continuing efforts in striving for perfection in our school. This is evident in our principal, Kermit Thompson, who has always performed his duties to the satisfaction of the entire school. As an administrator, Kermit Thompson always has an open mind to new ideas that will benefit both students and teachers alike. He also makes a special effort to meet and talk individually with each student. Ed Pilarski, as assistant principal accepts the responsibilities of the attendance and discipline of the school. As W.H.S. panthers, we should appreciate our administration for the fine work they have done.

Kermit Thompson joins in panther spirit at pep assembly.

Assistant principal, Edward Pilarski, checks attendance records.

Kermit Thompson completes his sixth year at W.H.S.

Kathy Reeves, B.A. Ball State, and Marilyn Fodor, B.A. Michigan State, team up for ideas on film making and visual communicative arts for their classes in journalism and the visual arts field.

Joyce Umbaugh, B.S. Ball State, and Nancy Conard, B.A. Ball State and Purdue, meet in the main office before the start of another busy day.

Department head Georgiana Voll, A.B. Trinity College, M.A.T. Minnesota University, discusses creative writing with her English class.

Bob Million, B.A., M.A. Ball State, creates a visual learning situation through the use of a filmstrip in his English class.

English Lays Fundamentals For Learning

Individual attention is given to student problems as Norma Hoffman, B.S. Ball State, listens carefully to a Washington senior.

The English Department at Washington High School helps the Panthers to establish the essential foundations of communications. The students learn the art of writing, the skill of speaking, the ability of listening, and the knowledge of interpreting literature. Literature helps us to understand the people of the past and the present. Three years of English is the requirement for graduation and a fourth year is often desired by the college bound students. Specialized courses in speech, drama, filmmaking, and journalism are offered to the students, as well as special interest areas in literature and writing. This creative and imaginative department is headed by Georgiana Voll.

COURSES VARY IN CHOICE OF SPEECH, LIT, MOVIE-MAKING

Anne Lehman, B.A. Rockford College, Wilmington College, explains the days lesson.

Virginia Black, B.A. Ceton Hill College, discusses teaching with Patricia Sell, B.S. Wisconsin State College, M.A.T. Notre Dame.

New Program Offers Choice To Students

This year the English department has utilized a new program called Nongraded Phase Elective Senior High English. Nongraded means classes will not be apportioned according to grade levels of a student but according to the course. Phased means the courses a student can choose from are rated from 1 to 5. Phase 1 is recommended for students who find reading, writing, and speaking difficult while phase 5 is recommended for students who have excellent control of basic skills. It is the students discretion which decides which phase is best for him. Elective means the student can select 3 courses from the approximate 30 for the school year. (All courses are for 12 weeks.) The courses' subject matter varies to fit different tastes. Also the teachers elect the courses they wish to teach.

Drama teacher Joe Good, B.A. Doane College, directs his sixth hour drama class in a one-act play.

Bill Kaniewski, B.S., M.S. Indiana University, finds a humorous note in a student's analysis of literature.

Louise Drapek, B.A. Indiana University, M.A.T. Saint Mary's College, at the time consuming task of correcting a pile of theme papers.

ALL FOR WASHINGTON . . . !!

Coach "Beans" Van Camp, the main gear of the Big Green Machine generates Panther Spirit.

The band sets the beat for the cheers at pep assemblies.

With their powerful voices, the varsity cheerleaders help fill the student body with enthusiasm.

It has been a tradition at WHS to express our school spirit. At our pep assemblies and at our games the Panthers prove their true loyalty to the school by cheering the team. The score was never a factor to the determined Panther fans, who cheered continually throughout each game. Many influences have attributed to the student's Panther Pride. Our new head football coach "Beans" Van Camp, the cheerleaders, and the band with their instruments have been a big asset to the student's school spirit.

The crowning of the queen at halftime climaxed our 1970 Football Homecoming. A car caravan preceded the event, which took place for the first time at the Adams game.

Elkhart's Blazers vainly try to stop Horvath.

PRIDE

This year's Washington High School football team carried on the PRIDE and TRADITION that have become the trademark of Panther elevens. They met and hit with the best teams in Indiana, Ohio, and Michigan. The passing of Bob Horvath, with the catching of Clarence Clark and Mark Scott, along with the running of Jeff Phillips and Larry Jones led the offense. The hard-hitting Panther defense was led by co-captains Bob McCullough and Kevin Bikowski, with middle guard Rick Zalas. Coach Bob Van Camp took charge of the Green Machine this season after serving as an assistant coach at Washington for eleven years. Coach Van Camp brought forth the spirit, desire, and dedication to meet any challenge that have become part of the Panther tradition.

Junior fullback Larry Jones bulls his way for tough yardage.

GO FIGHT WIN

Most Valuable Player Kevin Bikowski (60) and James Lane (22) anchor the right side of the Panther defense as they prepare to meet the challenge of the Michigan City Red Devils. The Washington defense again proved to be one of the toughest in the conference and continued in the hard-hitting tradition of the West Side.

Jeff Phillips looks downfield as he slips a B
Blazer tackle. Jeff's speed enabled him to bre away for many gains.

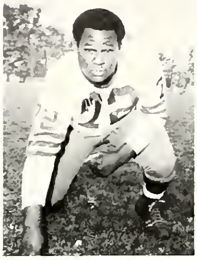
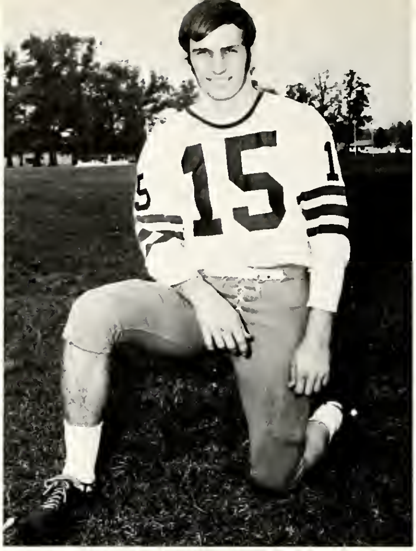
Washington High School's 1970 football squad proved to be one of the toughest teams in northern Indiana. Their victories numbered opponents in Indiana, Michigan, and Ohio. The Panthers suffered narrow defeats to Adams (two points) and single touchdown losses to Riley and Michigan City. Our players fought hard and were in the games up to the final whistle. For the season, success cannot be measured by the number of games won or lost, but by the number of boys who became men as a result of it. Individual Panthers received state-wide recognition for their efforts. Bob Horvath was named to the All-State Coaches team with Bob McCullough and Rick Zalas gaining Honorable Mention. Zalas as middle guard and Horvath as defensive halfback were selected to the tough Northern Indiana All-Conference team. Honorable Mention honors went to McCullough, Kevin Bikowski, Rich Wasielewski, Paul Suppinger, Greg Much, Larry Jones, and Clarence Clark. The hard-nosed Panther defense was led by Zalas with 53 unassisted tackles and was voted as the team's most valuable lineman. Most valuable back Jones led the team in rushing with 313 yards gained, followed by Jeff Phillips and Mark Scott. Bikowski was selected as the Most Valuable Player by a vote of his teammates and Suppinger received the Kiwanis Award for academic achievement with athletic ability.

Center Rich Wasielewski intently watches the action on the field as he waits for the Panthers to go on the attack when the ball turns over.



Eugene Robinson



Bob Horvath, All-Conference defensive back and starting quarterback, provided many thrills for the Panthers.

All-Conference star Rick Zalas lead the Panther defense at his middle guard position with 53 unassisted tackles.

The 1970 Football Coaching Staff consisted of six fine and knowledgable men. These men combined forces to teach their teams the fundamentals of the game and instill the Washington tradition of Victory. This years staff saw two new faces on the scene. Pat Gullifor took over the Freshmen and ex-Panther Jerry Klaybor returned from LaSalle to help Coach Gullifor.

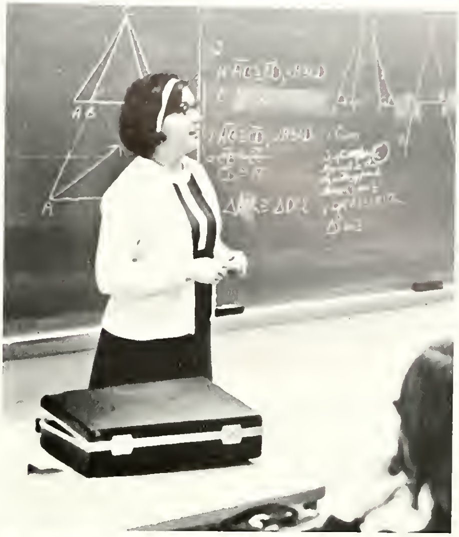
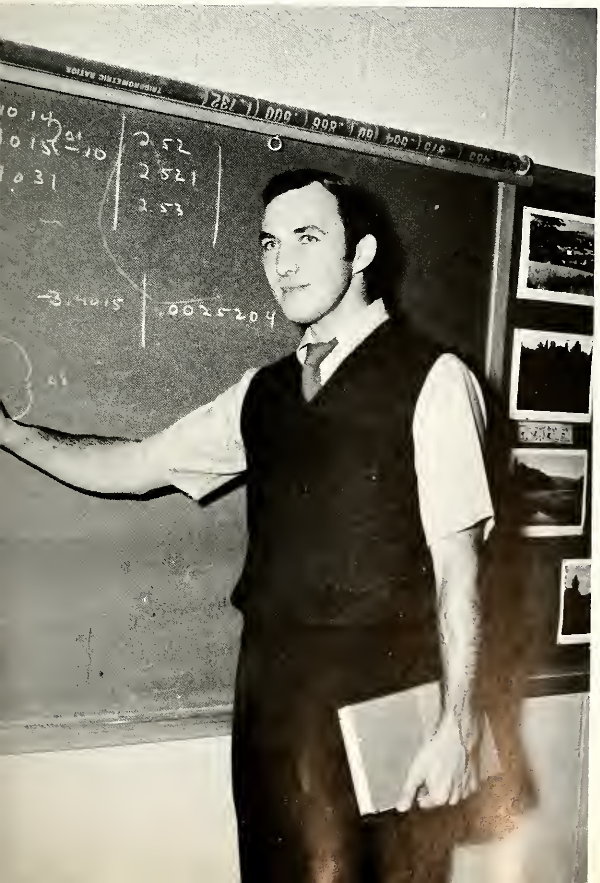
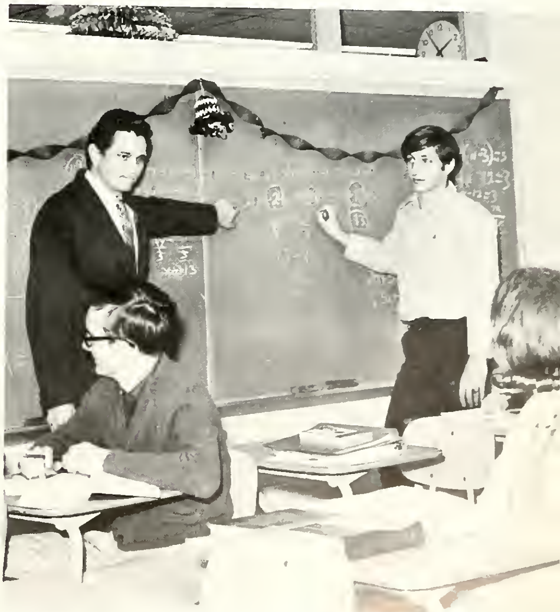
Math Is The Universal Language That Promotes Scientific Progress

Mathematics is the universal language which promotes technological advancements. One year of math is necessary for graduation and the requirement is fulfilled by High School Math or Algebra. More years are often desired by college bound students. Geometry, Intermediate or College Algebra Trigonometry, College Algebra-Analytic Geometry are other courses offered. Supplementary years of mathematics will help students build a logical mind and give an understanding of abstract mathematical concepts.



Mary Short, Indiana University, A.B., M.A.T., goes over a difficult geometry problem.





Jerome Hoffman, Notre Dame, Indiana U., B.S., M.A., reviews the day's assignment.

Eugene Dziubinski, Ball State U., B.S., explains a difficult math problem to his class.

Opening a locker for the first time proves to be a trying experience for this freshman and on-looking mother.

Freshmen Encounter Many Experiences

Coach "Beans" VanCamp leads the freshman as they begin to leave one of their first pep assemblies of the year. These assemblies were planned to promote enthusiasm and spirit in the student body so they will, in turn, back the sports of the oncoming year at Washington.

PANTHER NETMEN LED BY BUTISTE ON COURT

The Washington netters, led by Captain Steve Butiste, proved to be one of the gamest challengers in the South Bend area. Butiste, Ken Orosz, Jeff Kruk, and Dave Walorski were the top match winners for WHS.

The WHS Cross Country team prepares to go into action in the Sectional meet.

Captain Randy Kiemnec led this year's Washington Cross Country team in their efforts. This sport is a physical test of stamina and endurance. The contest is run over a two mile course marked out over open land. Sacrifice and dedication were the principles stressed by Coach Gene Dziubinski. Terry Budny, Jim Debeck, and Tom Snodgrass, along with Captain Kiemnec hustled for top placements for the Panthers. Washington High School was indeed fortunate to be represented by such a fine group of young athletes.

Our Cheerleaders Promote Panther Pride and Spirit

Promoting school spirit is the responsibility of our fine WHS cheerleaders. Their pep and enthusiasm at football and basketball assemblies and at the games keeps our Panther spirit alive. During the past summer, our cheerleaders attended a cheerleading workshop where they learned many new cheers and chants. They also worked up new pom-pom routines. Under their sponsor, Mrs. Pat Czarnecki, the cheerleaders inspire the student body to support our great Panther teams in victory and help our school to be proud in defeat. They are the spirit of Washington. "Up With the Panther Pride."

The WHS varsity cheerleaders show their affection for their sponsor, Mrs. Pat Czarnecki. The cheerleaders and their sponsor work closely together to inspire school spirit.

Our cheerleaders rejoice as the Green Machine keeps rolling along.

Basketball fever runs high as the cheerleaders lead a cheer.

The substancial number of girls who wore pant-suits indicated the fashion's increasing popularity. Here Judy Rhoades with partner Randy Kiemnic dance to the music of Symbol.

In keeping with the theme, Autumn Haze, a scarecrow watches over Chris Ganus and Mark Scott.

A glowing fireplace, jack-o-lanterns and a scarecrow enhanced the atmosphere of the Junior Class Party. Being proud of the year in which they will graduate, the Juniors carved '72 on their pumpkins. The Bendix Woods Pavilion provided the setting for the theme, "Autumn Haze."

Class parties have neither the formality of proms nor the informality of simple get-togethers. Preparing to dance to a slow tune are Judy Brzezinski and Rick Kapiska.

Centered around this background, the Juniors danced to the music of the popular group "Symbol." The success of the party was evident through the attendance of over 300 couples. The excitement of the event made November 14 an evening the Juniors will surely never forget.

A lot of the fun of class parties is the enjoyment of being together with friends. This group of Juniors seem to be having a good time.

The WHS Band, directed by Mr. Lackey, is an important part of our school. They perform at football games and at our pep assemblies to promote school spirit. Marguerite Murphy, B.S. Purdue, Department Head, tests students chemical knowledge.

Science is the knowledge acquired through man's efforts to understand the secrets of nature by studying, observing, and experimenting. Science is generally categorized into physical or biological. Biology is the study of the origin of life and the conditions necessary to maintain it. Biology is the only biological science offered, but two years are available. Chemistry is the science which deals with the properties, composition of, and changes in matter. Physics is concerned with the nature and measurement of matter and of energy and with the relationship between them. Earth science is the world in which we live.

Richard Kraft, Duke, Notre Dame, Indiana, B.A., points out important scientific theory.

On November 20 and 21 the Drama Club, under the direction of Joseph Good and Norma Hoffman, presented "The Mouse That Roared." Set in Grand Fenwick, the play concerns a small medieval country that declares war on the US because a California company was making a cheap imitation of the wine they produced. In the end the US paid Grand Fenwick damages and the company agreed to discontinue making the wine.

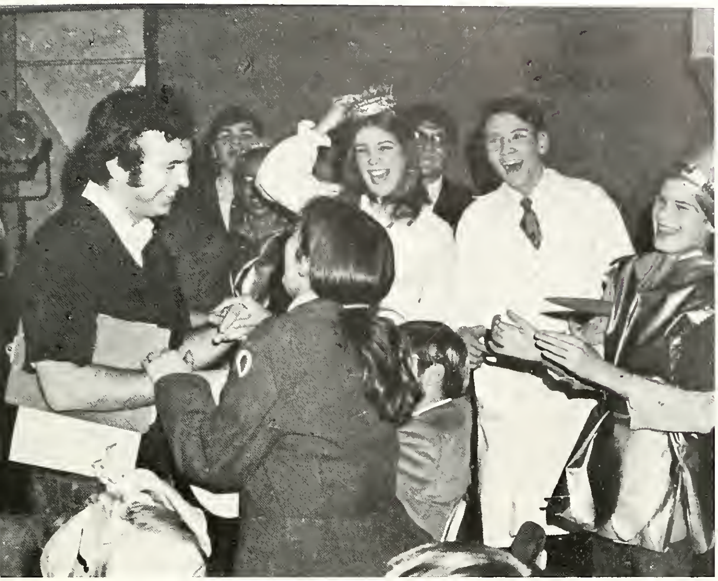
"Mouse That Roared" Captivates Audience



Director Joseph Good and his cast share a laugh backstage after their performance. THE MOUSE THAT ROARED was an enjoyable treat for both the audience and the actors.

"Be careful! It'll blow us to smithereens!"

"I'll proudly wear your banner into battle."

Kristi Clary, Ball State University, demonstrates the proper usage of the trampoline to her students.

Twila Shively, Illinois State University, B.A., Indiana University, instructs her physical education class.

John Solmos, Kansas State University, B.S., M.S., observes his swimming class.

Activities such as swimming and gymnastics make up the agenda for those students taking physical education. Through this class they learn the importance of following rules and using good sportsmanship at all times. Also by participating in intramural sports they learn to compete with others. The skills learned in this class help the students to remain physically fit throughout their lives.

Assemblies Prove Both Educational And Entertaining

Throughout the school year many assemblies are planned to enrich the curriculum. The assemblies are worthwhile programs given by dedicated performers. Traveling from various parts of the country, these performers come to Washington to share their talents with the appreciative student body. Special performances, however, are occasionally given for the community at night. This was the case with the Carson's program, "A Glimpse into the Heart of a Black Man," and Dust, a modern rock group. It is hoped that there will be more entertaining and educational assemblies in the future.

The Carsons, a multi-talented couple, gave a captivating performance on Negro History. Their emotional portrayal of the black man's plight through the ages provided the audience a true "Glimpse into the Heart of a Black Man".

Choir members from First Church enliven the combined Brotherhood Week and Black History Week assembly.

By giving a dramatic reading, Edward Sahlstrom demonstrates his acting ability. He also read tongue-twisting phrases and brought laughter to the audience with "The Cremation of Sam Magee".

Dust's organist sings seriously while playing.

Members of Dust get it together in one of their several hard rock numbers.

Frank Ernst, the Head Counselor, helps a Junior select her courses for next year. Mr. Ernst sets up all the courses offered each year at WHS.

Counselors Help In Deciding The Future

Lois Alyea, the Sophomroe Counselor, pauses from the records and reports that are kept on each student. All test scores and grades are kept on file to trace a students progress through school.

Through the helpful instruction of the counselors who make up our guidance department the students are able to select courses which will guide them in their future careers. Not only are our counselors interested in the grades and schedules of the students, but also in the students themselves. Anytime a student has any kind of problem the counselors always try their best to help them in any way possible.

Vera Wilson helps a Junior discover career opportunities that might interest him in the future. Guidance office assistants, such as Vera, administer tests and present other job material.

Mary Sullivan, the Freshman Class Counselor, converses with Marsha White who served as a guidance office assistant.

Vermont Harter, the Senior Class Counselor, ponders over the problems which confront WHS Seniors. As Senior Counselor, Mr. Harter is especially helpful to the Seniors planning to attend college and is also active in helping students with job placement.

Peggy Lula shows Richard Lancaster how the careers available machine operates. The machine shows complete information about a wide variety of job opportunities and occupations.

Counselors Help Plan Programs

Pat Czarnecki performs her duties at the main office.

Marge Kolvas assists students in buying school supplies.

Our offices are run by a very fine staff of secretaries here at WHS. Pat Czarnecki takes care of business in the main office. Daily attendance records for all the students are kept by June Stump. In charge of the Bookstore is Margie Kolvas and Connie Wallis keeps guidance records.

Secretaries Aid In Efficiency of School

Connie Wallis checks guidance records.

June Stump records students' attendance.

Mary Eddins checks over accounts in her job in Robertson's Lay-A-Way department.

Packing, sorting, and stocking merchandise are all part of the activities Chris Cenova is involved with in his work as a stockman at Robertson's.

Checking and tabulating inventories take up much of Cathy Rodick's time at Lou Ann's Country Mart.

STUDENTS EARN AS THEY LEARN

Co-ordinator Lyle Harding checks the progress of Jan Williams on her job. Periodic checks with the student and employer are part of the Co-op training program.

Sue Kucharski practices hair styling on fellow student Diane Dandino at the Vogue Beauty School. Such experiences prove valuable for future career training for WHS graduates.

Roy Harris marks the correct price on merchandise he has checked in. Such duties in retailing help the business student to apply classroom learning to practical situations.

Washington Senior, Tim Wruble, sticks on the price tags on some art supplies as part of his job at Lou-Ann's. Merchandising and proper display procedure are part of the Co-op training.

Faye Tijerina takes an interest in one the nursing care patients at the Ferris Lombardy Nursing Home. Such interest and care are part of the experiences of the WHS health careers students.

Educational Experiences Extend Past Class Study

The Business Department of Washington High School presents many work-study opportunities under the Co-op program. Co-op is designed for the student who has already decided on a career in the business world. The framework of the various Cooperative Education Programs of WHS is set up to have the student attend class for three hours in the morning and then spend the rest of the day involved in their different occupations. Washington Business teachers are assigned specific work areas and handle the placement of students in a variety of jobs and also act as a liason between the student and their employers. The Co-op program is rewarding for the participating students in material benefits and also in on-the-job experience.

Led by director Jay Miller, members of the Washington High School orchestra prepare for the upcoming performance.

The WHS orchestra, under the direction of Jay Miller, handles the responsibility of providing entertainment for the school as well as for the entire community. Each year the orchestra presents many fine performances. Included in these programs are a Pop Concert, concerts at the various feeder schools, and teaming with the vocal music department to provide music for the school's spring musical. Washington High School is fortunate to have such a fine organization for our individually talented students to learn and develop their musical abilities and perform a service for the school also.

Debbie Hunter, the first chair violinist for the WHS orchestra, intently tunes up for a practice session.

GIRLS WORK AT GAMES, GRADUATION

Sue Hojnacki kindly checks Sue Chojnacki's coat for her at a basketball game.

The Girls Ushers Club, sponsored by Marguerite Murphy, is one of the oldest clubs at WHS. Members consist of juniors and seniors who are dedicated to serve the school by ushering at plays, concerts, and at the Commencement Program. The girls also check coats at basketball games. The money from the coat check is given to the school, the club has no treasury. This year the girls checked coats at a program held at the WHS pool. Junior girls are selected into the club after introducing themselves and being voted on. The girls are hard working and reliable, and they are a credit to the school. An attempt to purchase new blazers was made this year, but is still uncertain.

Assignments

Ushers Debbie Zmyslo and V[illegible] Zoludow await at the auditorium door before the start of "Carousel". The Girls Ushers Club passed out programs at all the school's productions.

Seniors Bonnie Barker, Sue Gaczkowski, and Diane Dandino serve as coat checkers for the Junior Class Party. Girls from each class act as hostesses and servers at the other class' dances.

Cindee Hock hands Dan Spencer his program. Each girl performed her task with a smile.

Following the induction of the new Senior NHS members, refreshments were served for all members in the school library.

The National Honor Society was organized with the intention of recognizing students who have demonstrated high standards in scholarship, leadership, character, and service. A member must maintain at least a "B" average before the other requirements are taken under consideration for acceptance into the society. At the induction ceremony, new members are presented with a pin and membership card and recite the NHS pledge. Those students accepted in this group receive the highest academic honor WHS can bestow.

Even though raking leaves meant physical effort, laughter was always evident during this NHS project.

Debbie Mink passes out NHS membership cards to new Senior members at the induction ceremony at the Washington library.

New Junior members, such as Debbie Mink and Kathy Rendos, enjoy a meal with their parents prior to the NHS ceremonies.

As Kermit Thompson finds pleasure in distributing NHS membership cards, Kathy Buszkiewicz finds receiving a card has just as much satisfaction.

Pam Link, Charlotte Kopczynski, and Marcia VanRassan make big Easter eggs during a lesson prepared for the cadet teachers by Linda Borlik. Such projects helped WHS students in their preparation for teaching in neighboring elementary schools.

Cadet Teaching Helps Students In Career Plan

The WHS Future Teachers of America Club is made up of those students who are interested in pursuing a teaching career. WHS also has several cadet teachers who teach in the surrounding elementary schools for two hours, four days a week.

Many loyal Washington fans wait outside the stadium at Lima, Ohio, before the game. The WHS Booster Club, under the direction of Don Watson, sponsored busses for such trips. Busses were also provided for local Panther games at school field.

Bev Adamski, Junior Class President, presents a trophy to Mary Maeyens, Booster Club President, for the club's winning hall Christmas decorations.

The Booster Club is one of the largest and most active clubs at WHS. The club is designed to "boost" or promote school spirit. Throughout the school year, Booster Club members sell pins and buttons urging our WHS athletes on to victory. The club is responsible for the many colorful posters and signs in hall promoting support for upcoming athletic events.

Human Relations Promotes Betterment

Granville Cleveland from the University of Notre Dame addresses the student body during the Black History-Brotherhood Assembly. Mr. Cleveland stressed unity and understanding between races as a necessity of life.

The WHS Human Relations Board is an integrated group of students who attempt to solve any arising racial situation in our school. Two boys and two girls, one black and one white, are elected from each class during the class elections. These sixteen students meet periodically to discuss any of the problems that may come up in a school as large and diverse as Washington. Any other interested students may appear and partake in the discussions at any of the Board meetings. Mr. Don Claus served as sponsor for the group and the four Senior members rotated as chairmen. One of the main projects of the Board was the arrangement and presentation of a meaningful assembly for Black History and Brotherhood Weeks.

BOOSTER CLUB MOTIVATES WHS SPIRIT

The HATCHET staff works diligently in order to meet a deadline. Each staff member has a very important job in completing the copy for each week's issue.

Deadlines Face Reporters In Search Of Pantherland News

WHS is very fortunate to have such a fine newspaper as the HATCHET. This year's editor-in-chief, Pam Bonkowski, and her staff were responsible for turning out the weekly publications. The staff works hard and spends many hours after school working on the paper to make sure that each issue meets the high standards which the HATCHET sets for itself each year. The staff's various jobs include reporting, typing, getting ads, and circulating the newspaper. Mrs. Marilyn Fodor is the patient and hard-working sponsor of the paper.

The Hatchet staff takes pride in producing a good newspaper. Each member works hard to make the paper interesting to all students. Sandy Buda, left, is in charge of circulation and subscriptions. Members of the circulation department, below, Karen Sikorski, Dennis Sopczynski, Barb Martin, Janet Skarwark, prepare the newspapers for Friday morning distribution. It takes many hours of hard work by many students to get out each issue.

The Editor-In-Chief of the HATCHET has the most important task of seeing that the paper is completed at the appropriate time. The Editor-In-Chief this year was Pam Bonkowski, who along with the HATCHET sponsor, Mrs. Marilyn Fodor, was responsible for the planning, news-searching, and producing of a fine newspaper.

Pom Pom Girls Create Sparkle

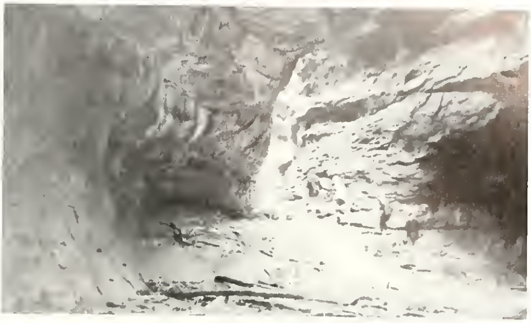
A new addition to the organizations at WHS is the Pom Pom girls. Under the direction of Susan Good, the girls started practicing early in the year. They have new uniforms and pompoms and are all ready for next fall.

The Pom Pom girls prove their ability to keep in step with each other through this chorus-like routine.

The Pom Pom girls made their first public performance at a basketball pep assembly. They proved very impressive while doing their various routines.

After the performance, many of the girls give a relieved but happy expression as they leave the gym floor.

Kathy Buskiewicz, Vice-President of the Art Club, seems to be having a wonderful time on the club's trip to Turkey Run State Park.



Art Club Members Enjoy A Phenomenal Year

The Art Club is one of the many fine clubs at WHS. Its members are those who are interested in art and want to cultivate this interest. The club participates in many activities such as their field trip to Turkey Run State Park. The art club annually enters many of the students' projects in the Scholastic Arts Contest. WHS can be proud of the many awards and gold keys presented to our students for their accomplishments. A student who enrolls in an art class gains a better understanding of all types of art ranging from painting to rug weaving. The satisfaction of finishing a piece of art work is a valuable experience for an art student.

Mr. Meuninck chats with the driver as students rest on the bus during a stop on the Art Club trip.

Mr. Pilarski leads the way as two of the Art Club officers follow cautiously. Kathy Buskiewicz, Vice-President and Becky Kapsa, President, find the hills of Turkey Run quite a challenge.

Captain Clarence Clark lets fly with one of his patented jumpers. Providing the Panthers with seventeen points a game, Clarence also ripped off many rebounds.

Future Bright As Sophs And Frosh Shine

1970-1971 Panther B-Team: Left to Right: Ricky Anderson, Kevin Horvath, James Harris, Jack Harding, Captain Clifford Harris, Al Brooks, Dan Soos, Bernie Miller, Gary Sosinski. These Sophomores battled through an 8-11 season facing many taller and more experienced teams. Their spirit and determination made us proud of these young men and their display of the true Panther Pride.

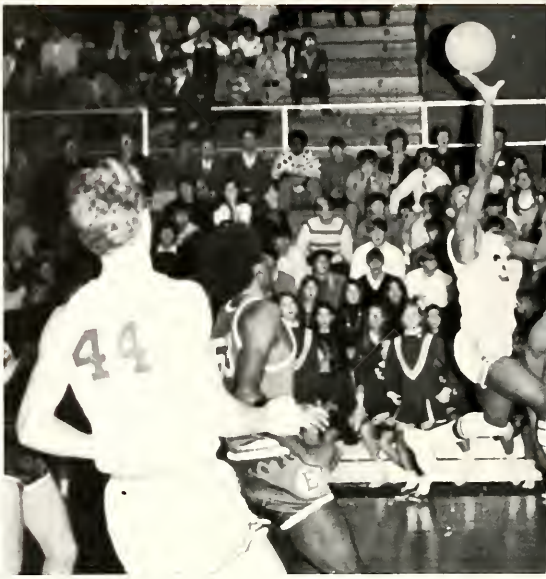
Dave Freeman and Clarence Clark hit the board in a combined effort to tip in a basket against Elkhart.

Clifford Harris tosses up a turn around jumper from the baseline.

The Panther basketball team competed against some of the outstanding teams in the state this season. Seven of our opponents were ranked in the top twenty in the state at the end of the season. The Northern Indiana Conference was the state's toughest with the South Bend area considered to have the best talent around. Five of our opponents were Sectional winners: Michigan City, Elkhart, Adams, Hammond Clark, and Fort Wayne Elmhurst. Elkhart advanced to the State Finals. The Panthers were paced by scoring leader Clarence Clark with a seventeen point average. Al Braylock and Roderick Owens followed. The rebounding action was done by 6-5 Dave Freeman with help from Braylock and Clifford Harris. Next year Washington looks to avenge some of our losses of this season.

Hard driving Bob Horvath flys through the lane for a score. Horvath provided the spark for several Panther victories.

Dave Freeman slips inside two Clay defenders for a score. Besides being a scoring threat around the lane area, Freeman led the Panthers in rebounding. At 6-5, Dave was the tallest player on our team.



Scoring leader Clarence Clark twists through for a driving layin.

A Red Devil defender arrives too late as Roderick Owens floats through the air for another quick score off a Washington fast break. Rod's quickness paid off in many steals for scores and being in front of the "break".

Al Braylock leaps high to get clear for one of his patented jump shots against Marian. Al's jumping ability and agile moves allowed him to get loose for a season scoring high of 40 points in a single game. He set this record against Goshen.

This year's Panther freshman basketball team achieved the best record of any previous group. Their overall record stood at 15 wins and only one defeat, that loss being to Central by a single point. The Washington freshmen captured the City Tournament Championship and were Co-Champions of the St. Joseph Valley Freshman League. Coach Eugene Dziubinski was the motivating force behind this team and stressed the Panther tradition of dedication and determination. If these young men continue with their effort, our basketball future looks bright.

On January 23, the Washington Basketball Homecoming Court was presented at halftime of the WHS-LaSalle game. The Court was made up of eight Senior girls selected by the Senior class. This year's court was made up of Pam Kirk, Pat Lane, Pam Link, Regina Phillips, Joci Polack, Emma Williams, Elaine Wisniewski, and Jane Wolfe. The court sat with the student body in cheering the Panthers on in their battle with the highly ranked Lions. During the halftime ceremonies, the queen was named and crowned by Principal Kermit Thompson. The selection of the queen is made by the Senior class. To the delight of the crowd, this year's Homecoming queen was Jane Wolfe. Happiness and excitement filled the air.

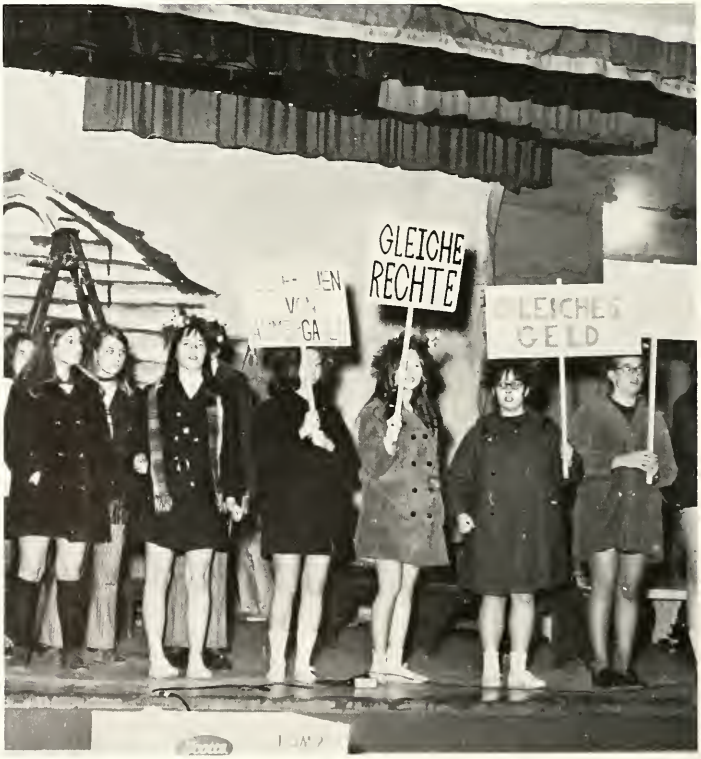
President Kathy Rendos and Mr. Guin discover the tape recorder's problem as Mr. Foley and the other Language Club officers look on.

Members of the Foreign Language Club participate in many activities and functions during the year. Under the sponsorship of the teachers in the WHS Language Department, the club commenced with a fall picnic at Bendix Woods Park. A Christmas party acquainted members with the customs of many countries. Funds were provided by a bake sale for the club's numerous projects. In the spring, the language students perform in a variety show in Indianapolis. The club ends its year with a trip to Chicago where students eat foreign delicacies and enjoy a popular play.

Club members pause on a Bendix Park teeter-totter.

Mr. Pikuza, Mrs. Tulchinsky, and Mr. Foley spend their time playing a rollicking game of Frisbee with club members during the fall picnic.



Members of the Washington High School Language Club practice for their variety show play in our auditorium. The skit, dealing with Women's Lib, was performed in German under the direction of Mrs. Tulchinsky and received a first place award in Indianapolis.

Students in the Language Club put the final touches on the tree.

LANGUAGE CLUB OFFERS WIDE RANGE OF ACTIVITIES

The girls in German class certainly know how to keep up with the latest fashions. This fashion show was enjoyed by the German class and a neighboring French class. The class learned and had fun in the process.

Two Spanish students, Vicky Pine and Sue Walorski, try their hand at making Mexican food, much to the enjoyment of the other students.

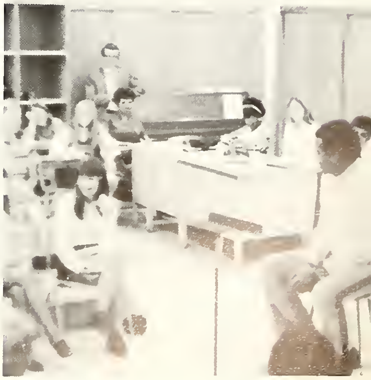
Council President Diane Snyder reports new business to the delegates.

Sponsor Mary Short and the officers of the Student Council listen to discussion of an issue under consideration of the Council assembly during one of their periodic meetings.

The WHS Student Council gives students a chance to have a voice in the affairs of the school. The members were chosen in a different way this year. Any student could run for a position in the Student Council, but only a select number were elected from each grade by the students themselves. The Council contains many committees such as the Steering Committee and the Cafeteria Committee. The WHS Constitution was written by the Student Council and students can present additions or changes that they feel necessary. Many assemblies are planned by the Council involving professional entertainment and pertinent programs for given situations. The Council is a valuable asset to WHS.

Diane Snyder Heads Student Council; Lloyd Haines Surprises Delegates

Randy Kiemnec brings up a point for discussion with Diane Snyder during one of the Student Council sessions.



Lloyd Haines, star of the television show Room 222, paid a surprise visit to talk to the WHS Student Council. He gave a talk on black and white student unity and other student-school-social problems.

Library Offers Students Many Services

Hallie Clampitt, Indiana University, B.S., besides her regular library work, takes care of all of our audio-visual equipment.

The library is an important part of our school. Here the students are able to gather information needed for reports, or get books to read just for pleasure. Besides books, the library also has a large supply of pamphlets and magazines to assist the students. Most books may be checked out for a period of 2 weeks, and renewed if necessary. The library is also responsible for all audio-visual equipment. Any time a student has a question as to where to find certain materials the librarians are happy to help them.

Louise Hunsberger, Indiana University, B.S., M.A., is always ready to assist students.

Cathy Weller, Ball State University, B.S., tests a students hearing. Hearing, eye, and T.B. tests are part of the health checks taken during the year by our nurses to insure the well being of all the Washington students and teachers.

Roselyn Cole, Indiana University, B.S., Speech and Hearing Therapy, St. Mary's College, M.A., works with a student to help improve her hearing deficiency. Mrs. Cole is a valuable asset to WHS students who have speech and hearing difficulties. Her patience and understanding have helped many students to express themselves in a better and more confident manner.

Attending to the needs of students who become ill during the school day is one of our nurses' many duties. They also keep health records on each of the students. When a student returns to school after an illness, he must be checked by the nurses before he may return to classes. In their office they have sufficient equipment to take care of any minor injury or accident which may occur during the day.

One of the most important jobs here at Washington is that of our speech teacher. She offers her assistance to those students in our school who have hearing or speech difficulties. She attempts to help these students by bolstering their confidence, so that they will feel more at ease around people. Because of her busy schedule our speech teacher is only able to conduct classes once a week for these students.

Gwendolyn Parker, R.N., Loyola University, B.S., Notre Dame University, M.A., chats with some of her student aides at a local nursing home. In conjunction with the Home Economics Department and the Co-op program, Mrs. Parker supervises WHS students in health care for the aged in two nearby nursing homes.

Judy Rhoades sings a beautiful number from Handel's "Messiah". Her solo was one of many fine performances given by members of the Glee Club.

The Glee Club is a very important and active part of WHS. The club, sponsored by Mrs. Leininger, is composed of selected students from the Glee Club classes. They perform during the Christmas season and at the back-to-school assembly in September. The Fitzy Minstrels are students selected from the performing Glee Club. They are responsible for giving our community a great impression of WHS as they sing for many organizations and clubs in South Bend and the surrounding area. The Melloettes and Mellomen are a small group of students selected from the Fitzy Minstrels who also participate in these various activities and programs.

Rodney Austin, senior baritone, sings "I Wonder As I Wander" at the program given for the school.

Linda Gerkey sings a selection from "The Messiah" at the annual Glee Club Christmas program.

Mrs. Leininger, Glee Club director, leads the entire Glee Club in a difficult selection from "The Messiah" at the Christmas program. The program is a tradition at WHS.

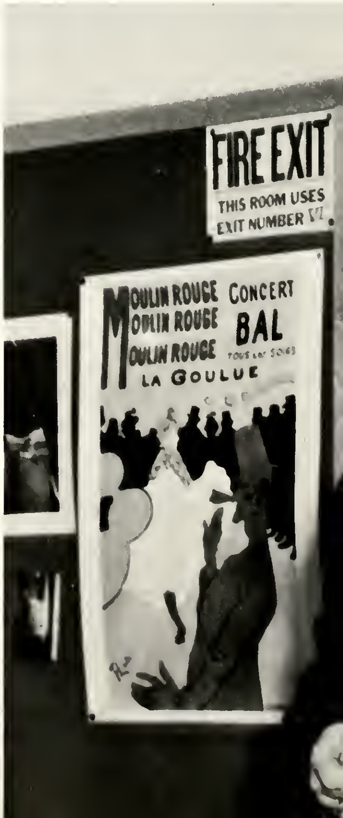
"Booing" the freshman by the upper and underclassmen has been a tradition at Washington High School for many years.

"We are the Juniors. . ." The Juniors exhibit "Panther Pride" and "Panther Spirit" through their enthusiasm at the pep assemblies.

"Native Son" was read as part of the course in the new English program.

Dick Guin, Western Mich., B.A., N.D., M.A., I.U., M.A.T., enjoys a Spanish meal prepared by a pupil.

Dora Goldberg, Indiana U., St. Mary's College, LaSalle College, B.A., helps students in the language lab.



Washington High School offers four languages, French, Latin, German and Spanish, to its students. Most college bound students need a second language and many of those who don't see the benefits in the knowledge of a second language may be to them in the future. Not only do students study the languages of foreign countries but they also learn of the nations customs. Beginning students learn the fundamentals of grammar, sentence structure, pronunciation of words, definitions of basic words, and meanings of idioms. After a student masters the fundamental rules of the language he faces the problem of expressing himself correctly, both orally and written. Films, visual aids, the language lab, records, tapes, and magazines aid the student in adopting the second language. After mastering the skill of reading, language students are introduced to the best literature produced by the country's authors. Advanced students are given opportunities to show their creativity in skits, themes, and also speeches.

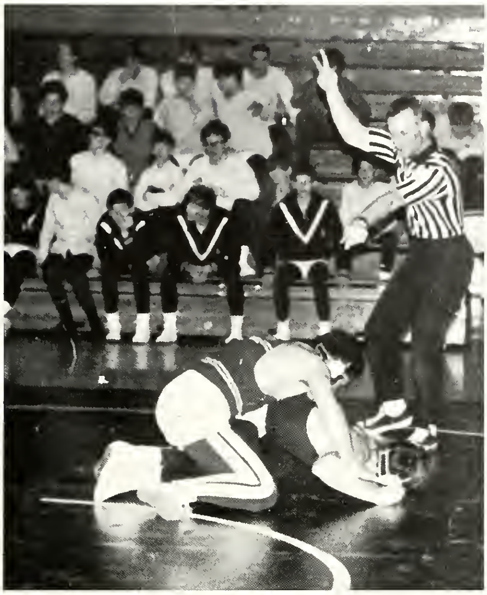
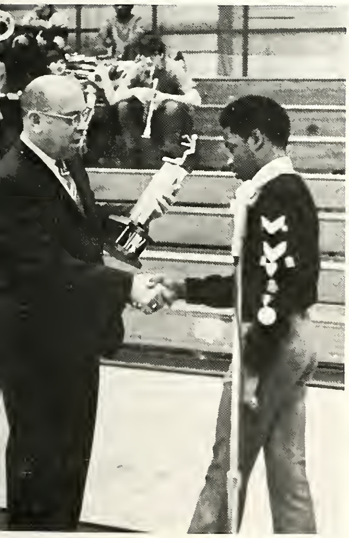
WASHINGTON MATMEN TAKE



167 pounder, Rick Zalas works for a take-down and two points and below is awarded the sign of a well earned victory.

Pride and determination have been trademarks of Coach Bob Million's wrestling teams and this year our Panthers used these qualities to capture their consecutive Sectional Wrestling Crown. With only one returning letterman and many inexperienced men, Washington was in a rebuilding year. Hard work and desire and many grueling practice hours paid off in the pressure of tournament competition. Ray Anderson won Sectional and Regional championships and placed fourth in the State Meet. The Panther B-Team finished with a 7-2-1 record and won further honors as City Champions.



Senior Captain Dee McCoy is congratulated and thanked by Principal Kermit Thompson as he accepts the 1971 Sectional Trophy.

Guy Nesbitt, middle, presents the 1971 B-Team City Championship Wrestling Trophy to Mr. Thompson after Bill Gates, right, had made the presentation speech. With the graduation of many top wrestlers, the B-Team will have to come through next year.

Mary Tice has the pleasant task of watching over the girls' study hall.

Study Hall induces students to increase their knowledge by indulging in books or other educational materials. Getting homework out of the way is one of the major goals of the students in Study Hall. A new program tested this year, honors study hall, was designed for students to use the schools facilities.

John Berta, Indiana State U., B.S., directs the study efforts of the boys.

Jay Miller, Indiana University, B.M., University of Notre Dame, M.M.E., pauses from the rehearsal of the musical score from "Carousel".

STUDY HALL PROMOTES GOOD STUDYING HABITS

Janet Leininger, Chicago Musical College, B.M., Oklahoma U., M.M., relaxes during second hour.

The music department is a valuable asset to our school. The courses offered are: Band, Orchestra, Music Appreciation and Chorus. The music department aids in expanding a students knowledge of the arts and in giving an understanding to help interpret the the meaning of music. The band promotes school spirit during football and basketball games and also during pep assemblies. They exhibit their abilities as a concert band in their annual Spring Concert. The orchestra studies musical techniques in great depth. They work on music from classical to contemporary. They present their talents in their annual Pop Concert. The Glee Club presents an annual Christmas and Easter program.

Participation In Music Expands Understanding

Larry Zorns, Tennessee State, B.S., directs the pep band at a basketball game.

Jerry Lackey, Indiana U., B.M.E., conducts the band in Beethoven's "Egmont" overture.

Marion Pilarski, Indiana University, B.S., University of Notre Dame, M.A., demonstrates his creativity in the field of art.

Ross Brown, Indiana U., B.A., helps a student select the colors for her painting.

Art Helps To Develop Creativity of Students

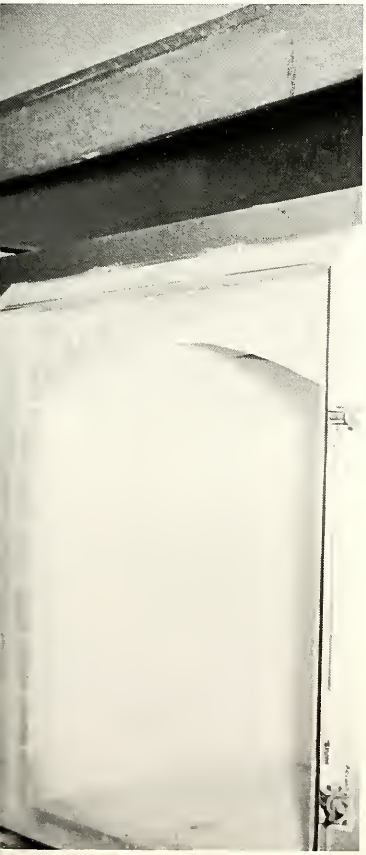
The first year art program is set up primarily to teach students the fundamental skills and changing concepts of art. After this year of discipline, Creative Crafts, and Drawing and Graphics are offered enabling students to become more involved in their individual direction of expression. These classes help prepare students for the transition into the Junior-Senior two hour program. In this liberal studio atmosphere, the emphasis is based on the creative quality of each student's work. Many of our Seniors are awarded scholarships each year.

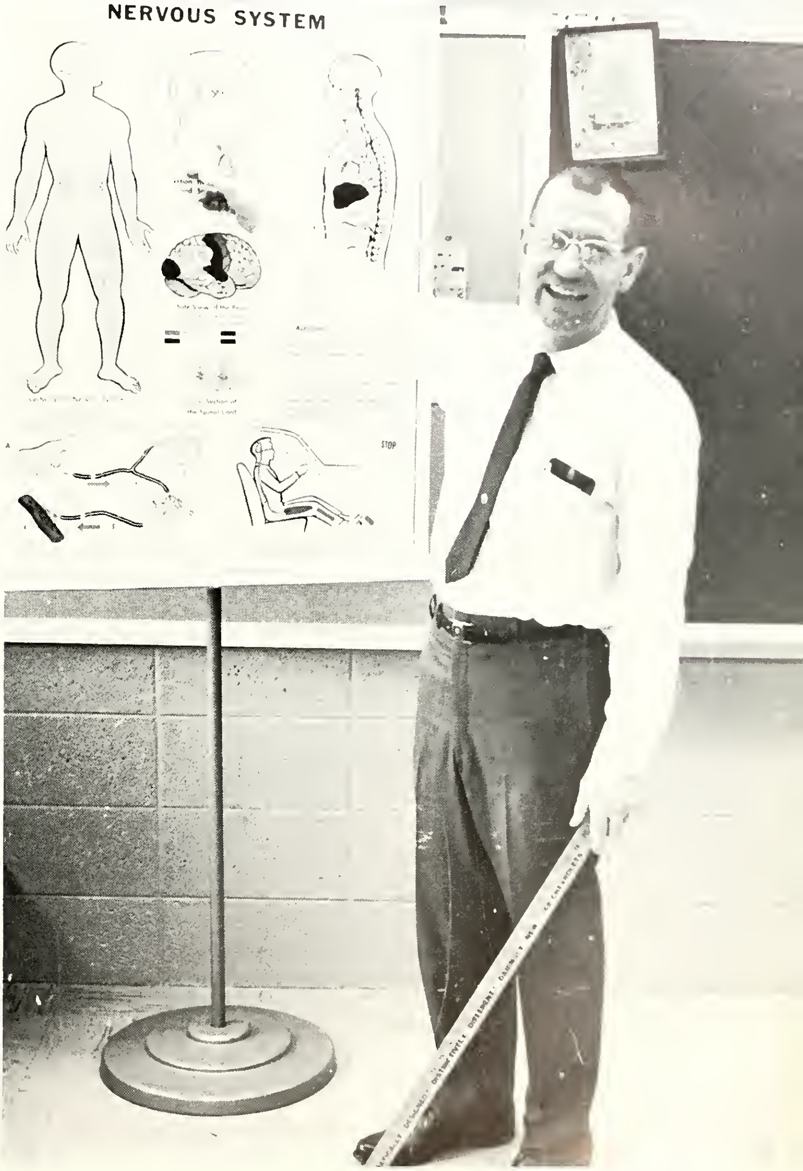
David Weber, University of Notre Dame, B.A., M.A.T., arranges students art projects in the display case.

Thomas Meuninck, Ball State, B.A., M.A., prepares to fire a student's pot in the kiln, for finishing touches.

HEALTH PREPARES US FOR LIVING

Health is the physical, social, mental, and psychological well being of an individual. This course is required and is usually taken during a student's sophomore year. The subject matter can vary from proper eating habits, to sex education, to first aid. Students also learn to recognize symptoms of diseases and how to treat these illnesses. The effects of drugs, alcohol and tobacco on a person is taught with the aim of solving these problems.



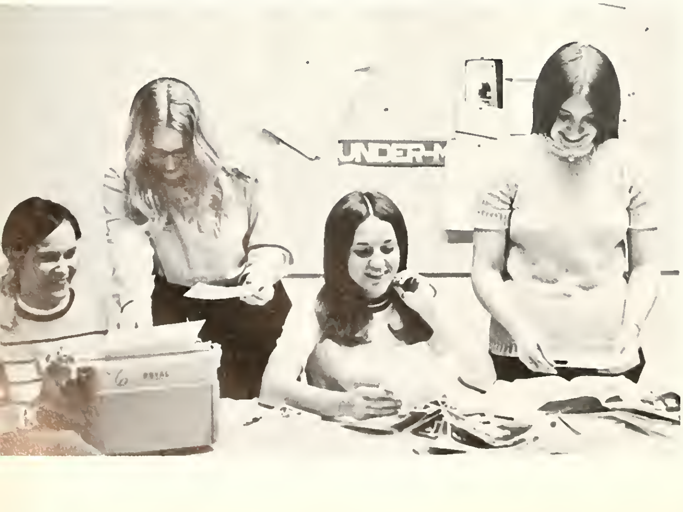


Joseph Redling, Central Normal College, B.S., Indiana U., M.S., explains the importance of being both physically and mentally healthy to his students.

Seniors Overcome Difficulties Through Hard Work; Effort

Checking the correct information and keeping all the pictures straight is one of the most important jobs in yearbook work. Working diligently at left are: Maxine Lathion (Underclass), Kathy Rendos (Seniors), Barb Chmielowiec (Activities), and Kathy Buszkiewicz, (Seniors).

Associate Editors Becky Kapsa and Barb Rann check over copy carbons and record the proper page numbers for the index section. Barb and Becky were involved in all aspects of planning and work, including keeping the "dummy" in order.



Sharing a fun moment are: Vicky Pine (Faculty), Bev Underly (Faculty), Sue Rzepka (Clubs), and Pam Link (Clubs).

Pictured above is Head Photographer John Wayo. The MEMORY LANE photographers were responsible for taking pictures of all the events and activities at WHS this past year. Many of the pictures were developed and printed in the school's darkroom. Other photographers involved in yearbook work were: Cary McAfee, Ernie Szymanowski, and John Pietraszewski.

This past year of work on the 1971 MEMORY LANE was a difficult but rewarding one for the loyal and hard-working staff. There were many problems and obstacles which had to be met and overcome before our yearbook could become a reality. There were many hours of planning, writing, cropping, correcting, revising, rewriting, and preparing the final copy sheets. Finally, through the perserverance and effort of our staff and sponsors, Mr. Weber and Miss McCollough, the MEMORY LANE was completed. For the first time the Panthers were presented with a complete yearbook depicting the events of the whole year in one book. Presented chronologically, the WHS year unfolds from the fall through graduation. We hope you enjoy your MEMORY LANE.

Checking through the dictionary, Donna Pace (Activities) and Connie Wiggins (Underclass) help Bob Ginter (Sports) select the right word for his copy. Copy writing and fitting the right amount of words in the proper space was no easy task.

The planning and organizing of the yearbook is the responsibility of the Editor-In-Chief and the Advisors. Marcia Van Rassen was this year's Editor and the MEMORY LANE was co-sponsored by Patricia McCollough and David Weber.

Business Manager Karen Kopczynski looks through some of the past yearbooks in the MEMORY LANE office.

Staff Brings MEMORY LANE To Life

Expressing the excitement of "Oklahoma", WHS dancers rally with enthusiasm as they keep pace with the theme of "Motion and Commotion".

BUGGIES FEATURED IN MUSICAL

Billed as the biggest musical extravaganza ever produced by the South Bend Community School Corporation, Motion and Commotion lived up to all expectations. On the night of February 10, 1971, area schools combined to present the history of our country from the pioneer times to the now generation of today. Over 2,000 students displayed talents in many fields including music, dance and acrobatics. Playing before a capacity crowd at the Athletic and Convocation Center, the show, a delight for both the audience and performers, was a credit to James Lewis Casady, the production director.

In keeping with our theme Buggy Days, old-fashioned buggies were featured. The girls wore long dresses, while the boys sported vests. Members of our Glee Club presented a selection of songs from the musical "Oklahoma" as others danced to the highstepping tunes: "Oh, What a Beautiful Morning," "People Will Say We're in Love", and "Oklahoma" charmed the audience. Curt Krouse sang "The Surrey with the Fringe on Top" as a solo. Other Washington students who participated were musicians in the Clarinet Choir, Seventy-Six Trombones and Orchestra, along with girls from physical education classes who did a Dumbbell exercise.

Waving hello in the traditional western fashion, the dancers greet the audience with a rousing rendition of "Oklahoma".

Our men from "Oklahoma" sing the stirring lyics of "The Surrey With the Fringe on Top."

This WHS band member was part of our contri- to the Seventy-Six Trombones number.

Donna and Jerry Flint, along with Jerry Stover did the choreography for the entire production. Above, dancers form couples with skill and precision.

Girls from our physical education classes perform a Dumbbell exercise to the music of "Stars and Stripes Forever". The group was under the direction of Miss Good.

Motion and Commotion Offers Variety Of Acts

John Illes and Doug Reinhold receive Sectional honors from Mr. Redling. The Sectional and City Meets were held in the Washington pool.

Swimmers Survive Grueling Tests

This year's Washington High School Swim Team faced tough conference and city team competition. The Panthers were able to hold their own against most rivals except for perennial swim powers, Adams and Jackson. Co-Captains Steve Butiste and Marty Steinhofer led Coach Sexton's team in both performance and desire. In this demanding sport, where fractions of seconds are important, WHS was well represented by a group of fine young men.

Panther swimmers spring to a quick start in a duel meet.

Senior Doug Reinhold splashes to another victory in the butterfly event. A three year letter winner, Doug was a valuable asset to the Panther swim team.

Co-Captain Steve Butiste takes off on the third leg of the 200 yard medley relay. Veteran Butiste contributed strongly to the leadership and success of the Panther season.

Steve Wendt soars from the diving board in performing a fine two and a half gainer. Steve was the team's top diver in varsity competition.

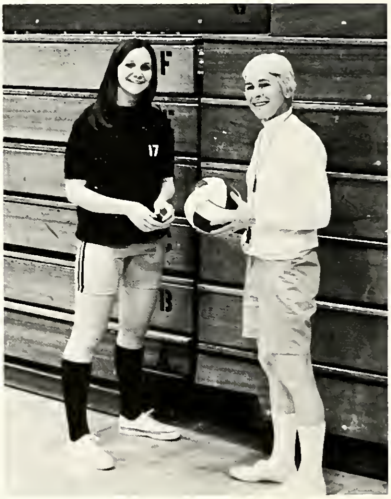
The Senior members of the swimming team provided the standards of desire and effort for the underclassmen in practice and competition.

Leading the Panther swimmers for the second year in a row, Captain Marty Steinhofer swims a couple of laps to warm up. Marty is a three letter winner and has contributed greatly to the success of WHS.

Coach Dave Sexton tallies the scores to determine who to place in the upcoming events. Such placement is an important part of a Swimming Coach's strategy to offset the opponents strengths and gain advantage of their weaknesses. Panther tankmen check the results.



The only major sport for the Washington High School girls to participate in is volleyball. Coach Twila Shively and Captain Peggy Borlik lead the team.

The girls' volleyball team at Washington High School enjoyed their most successful season this year by winning the City Tournament Championship. Led by Captain Peggy Borlik and veteran performers, Coach Twila Shively's team finished second in league competition and swept through the double elimination tournament as undefeated champions. The Panther B-Team volleyball team made it a clean sweep for WHS by capturing the B-Team Tournament Championship.

Jeanne Kubiak and Rita Sobecki leap at the net for a block of an attempted spike. Such teamwork earned our girls the City Championship.

The WHS laundry work is efficiently handled by matrons Lottie Cuzinski, Norma Coates, and Helen Buszkiewicz.

The ladies of our cafeteria staff work very hard to prepare well-balanced meals for our students. Teachers and students are offered a variety of menus, ranging from a plate lunch to a number of extras.

Our laundry matrons are responsible for the washing of all the gym clothes and towels for our physical education classes and athletic teams. They also do all the towels and laundry for the WHS feeders.

Our Cafeteria Offers A Well Balanced Diet

Matron Martha Kaizer has the responsibility to keep all the glass and windows sparkling clean at Washington. She is pictured at the left.

Engineers Fred Coates and Vic Pine, below, keep the boilers running and the air conditioning system operating at the proper temperature.

Head custodian Vaughn Graf relaxes after a hard day's work. Mr. Graf is in charge of the overall maintenance of the building plus doing special custodial chores.

Our custodians work day and night so that our school will be in the best possible shape for the students. These are the men who are called upon to "unjam" a stubborn locker or fix a broken light. Maintaining the pool and the temperature of the school is the job of our engineers. We could not function as a school without the services of these men.

Hollis Hughes is the Head custodian for the night crew. These men work long after the students leave to keep our school in order.

Home Economics, an area in general education, aims to help students achieve a more satisfying personal, home, and community life. It is concerned with social, economic, aesthetic, managerial, and ethical aspects of food, health clothing, human relationships, child development, and housing. Home Economics has a contribution to make to the education of youth, through helping them identify and solve personal, home, and community problems, and achieve satisfying relationships. The program of studies at secondary level helps them do better the things they do day by day, with an emphasis toward building a strong foundation for homemaking, parenthood, and citizenship. Those who find an interest in this area of education and care to pursue further study at college level will find many opportunities for careers.

A new course offered this year is Introduction to Building Trades, which teaches students the various aspects of building a home. They spend 3½ hours a day working on the home they are building. They plan to sell the home at the end of the year when it is completed.

I PLEDGE MYSELF

To accept the duties and responsibilities imposed upon me as an American citizen:

TO USE all the facilities which this free country has given me for continuing to grow in mind and spirit;

TO PARTICIPATE honorably in the civic life of our nation;

NEVER TO DISCRIMINATE against any man because of his race, his creed, or his color and to oppose all who do so;

TO WORSHIP God as my conscience dictates;

TO HONOR and defend my country with my faith, my work, and my life;

AND TO STRIVE for the peace and welfare of all human kind.

This I pledge to you, my parents, my teachers, my community, who have made it possible for me to enjoy the privileges of a land in which these ideals are upheld.

I PLEDGE IT

so that my generation and my posterity may keep marching

EVER ONWARD

the Senior Pledge

The couples chat with one another as they wait for the next song.

Michelle Csenar and Dennis Folk danced down the "Long and Winding Road."

Debbie Heritz and Dave Wassenhove keep the beat with The Symbol.

On February 13, the Washington High School cafeteria was filled with the excitement of the Senior Class Party. "The Long and Winding Road," accented with park benches, trees, and traffic signs, led the way to an unforgettable evening. Bright yellow and blue balloons, accented with streamers formed a maypole which added just the right touch to the setting. The couples strolled down the long and winding road to dance, to visit friends, or to go to the refreshment tables, which were also decorated with balloons and streamers. The refreshment table was transformed into an old fashioned push-cart. The refreshments consisted of lemonade, licorice sticks, pretzles, mints, and an assortment of fruit. "The Symbol" set the atmosphere for everyone to dance. Although there have been many experiences the Class of '71 will remember, the trip down "The Long and Winding Road" will be one night everyone is sure to treasure for a long time.

Either Barb Chmielowiec is whispering sweet nothings in Steve Taylor's ear or she is just plain camera shy.

Many bright faces show up at the refreshment tables during the class party. Pam Erickson pauses a moment to talk to her boyfriend as she chooses a grape to munch on.

Our Senior Class Party Highlights Winter Events

We here at WHS are very fortunate to have one of the finest business departments in the city. The students are offered courses ranging from Typing, Shorthand, and Office Training to Bookkeeping, Marketing and Business Communications. These courses help to prepare not only students who plan to enter the business world, but also those going on to college.

Robert Eley, Ball State, B.S., M.S., observes a student as she progresses in her typing skill.

June Dimich, Indiana State University, B.S., makes a corrective suggestion in typing form to a student.

Business Dept.

Dennis Leatherman, Indiana University, B.S., M.S., signs an admit before starting class.

The Business Department is concerned in training students in two specific areas: General and Vocational Business. A course in General Business supplies the students with enough skills to get along in the business world today.

Sharon Hugdahl, Wisconsin State U., B.S., tests accuracy and speed of students by giving them a timed writing.

Janice Tkacz, Ball State University, B.S., advises a student in her typing performance.

Prepares Students For Their Careers

Rosemary Ieraci, Indiana University, B.S., reads the creative work produced by a pupil.

Lyle Harding, Ball State, B.S., Western Michigan, M.S., shares a joke with one of his classes to keep the students attention.

Guy Campanello, Ball State University, B.S., Indiana University, M.S., explains bookkeeping terminology to a student.

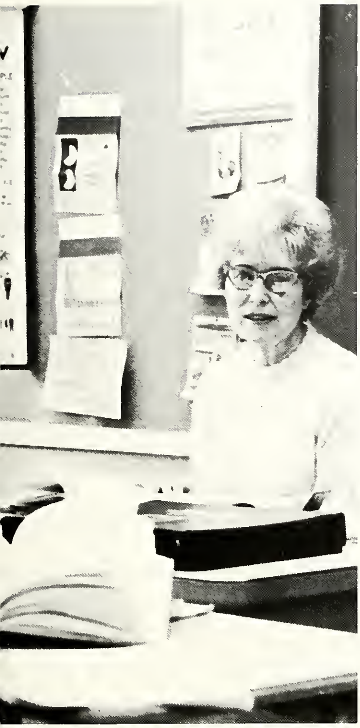
Robert Swintz, Purdue University, B.S., M.S., reviews his students knowledge learned in the last assignment.

SOCIAL STUDIES CONCERNS THE MODERN SOCIETY

Frank Claus, Northwestern U., B.S., Notre Dame U., M.A.T., may speak softly, but he carries a big stick.

Elaine Gilpin, Western Michigan University, A.B., explains the judiciary system to her Freshmen students. The Social Studies covers all aspects of our governmental processes and social environment.

Clare Holley, Huntington College, B.S., Michigan University, M.A., refers students to a reference in the text book.



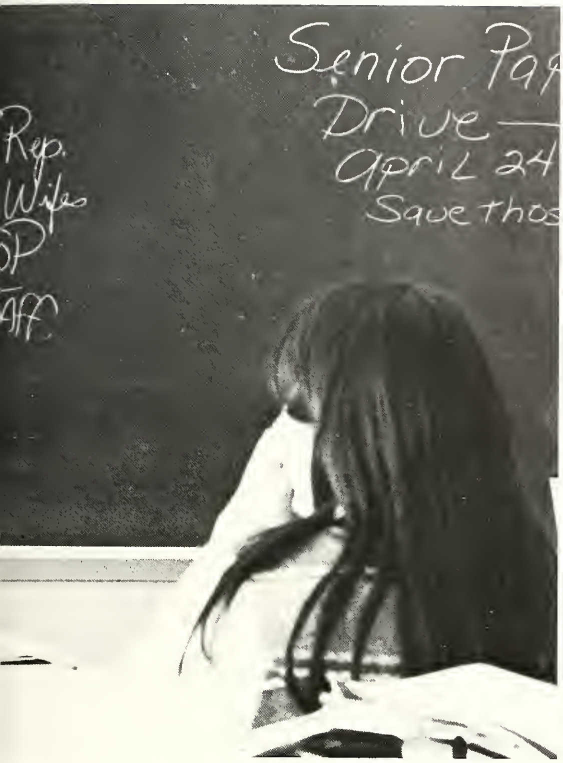
Social Studies deals with the structure of society and the activity of its members. Introduction to Social Studies is the required course for freshmen. Through this course they learn their duties as a citizen in the community. As juniors, students are required to take U.S. History. This course deals with the growth of our nation and the various problems we encounter. Current Events is often taken up in this class also. A new type of senior Social Studies was offered this year for some of the students. One twelve week course in Government was required, and after that the students were free to choose from a variety of courses what they would prefer for the remaining twelve week periods. Some students though, remained in the same Government class for the entire year.

Wayne Harsh, Indiana U., B.A., Notre Dame, M.A., lectures the class about the early history of our nation and its problems.

Phillip Peregrine, Ball State U., B.S., involves his government class in a discussion over an article in Time magazine. Class discussions cover a wide range of current topics.

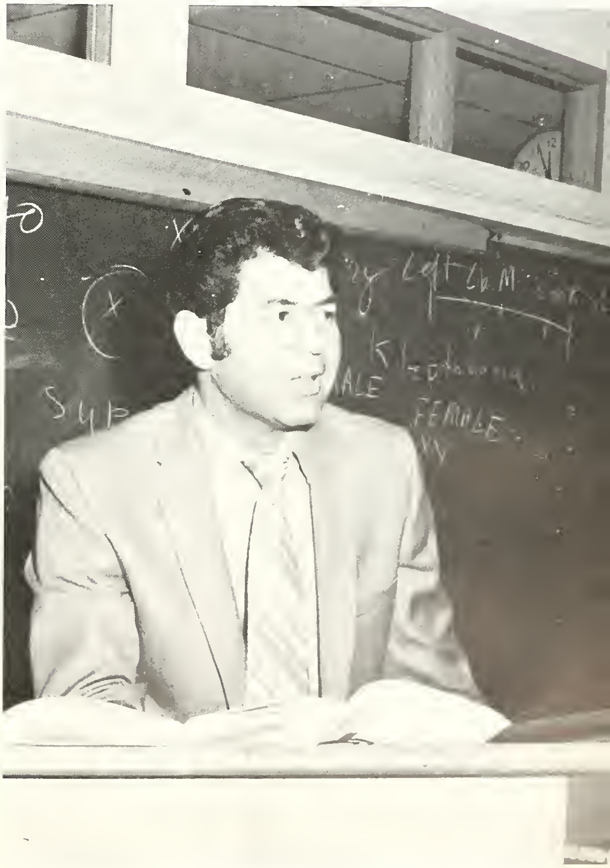
Catherine Villwock, Elmhurst College, B.A., lectures students on some of the problems in our society.

David Sexton, Indiana State University, B.S., Notre Dame U., M.A., enjoys listening to student opinions on topics under discussion.



Carol Dulcet, I.U.S.B., Indiana University, B.A., futilely corrects the errors on her students' written work.

John Killeen, Notre Dame, B.A., M.A., finds using films beneficial in instructing his class.



James Stavros, Ball State University, B.S., M.A., refers students to a quote in their textbook.

"CAROUSEL" BRIGHTENS SPRING

On the nights of March 25, 26, and 27, members of the Drama Club, Glee Club, Band, and Orchestra combined efforts to perform the musical "Carousel". The play deals with the people of a small Eastern seacoast town. Billy Bigelow and Julie Jordan fall in love and get married. Billy, who is a rather rough character, decides that he needs more money to support his future family. He and another seedy character try to rob one of the town's foremost gentlemen and Billy is killed in the process. Julie continues to live her life with hope and faith in God. The cast gave a memorable performance.

The "Carousel" cast uses animation to set the opening scene of the musical production.

The enthusiastic crowd sings a happy tune after the pleasant clambake meal. The looks on their faces and their joyous voices show the audience that "This Was A Real Nice Clambake".

Marty Niedbalski and Sue Lopinski dance the Hornpipe as the sailors and crowd look on with amusement.

Curt Krouse, portraying Billy Bigelow in the play "Carousel", captivates the audience with a heartwarming "My Boy Bill".

Aunt Nettie, played by Linda Gerkey, gives some advice to the girls of the town who are having problems with their lovers.

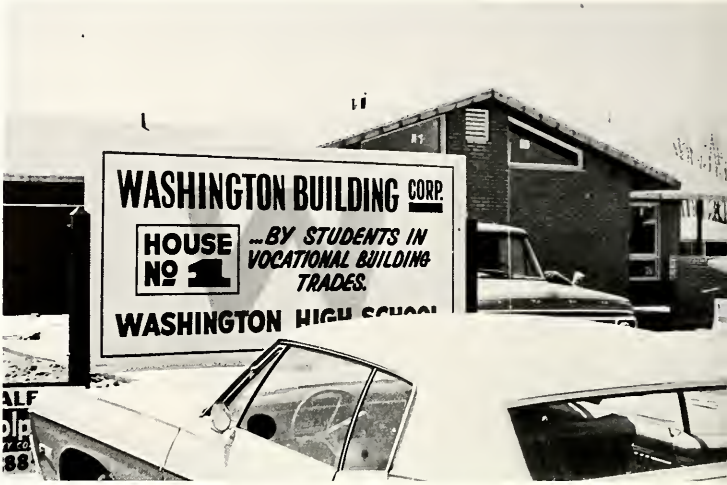
Building Trades Program Promotes

Ken Jacks instructs a student on the procedure of leveling the bricks for the fireplace which was placed in the dining room of the house.



WASHINGTON BUILDING CORP.
HOUSE
Nº 1
...BY STUDENTS IN VOCATIONAL BUILDING TRADES.
WASHINGTON HIGH SCHOOL

Kenneth Jacks, organizer and director of Washington's home building program, helped the students in the course to acquire experience which will benefit them in their future building careers.

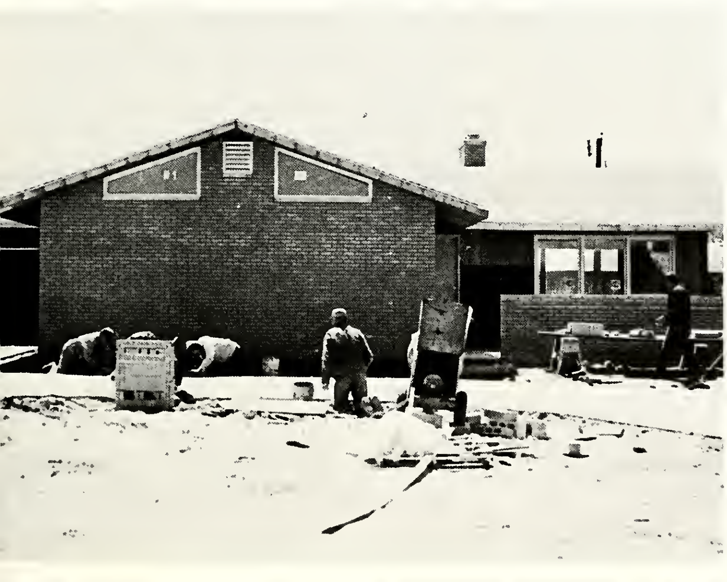
Early in the fall, the Vocational Building Trades students began work on the frame of the house. These students worked in the morning from 8 to 12 each day and devoted extra time after school when needed.

Through Ken Jacks guidance, the boys were shown how to install the heating, plumbing, and electrical systems of the house.

On-the-job Training

This year, Washington High School started a new program headed by Kenneth Jacks. The Washington Building Corporation was formed to help boys gain practical knowledge of the construction industry and to guide them into some phase of the building trades as a career. Every phase of the construction of the house was done entirely by the boys and Ken Jacks. The ranch style house, located off Crumstown Highway, has three bedrooms, one and one-half baths, and a combination family and dining area. Rough hewn cedar siding and brick were the materials selected for the exterior with the same brick used for the dining room fireplace.

The exterior of the house consists of a rough hewn cedar siding with a brick front. Landscaping will provide the finishing touches for the house.



Ken Jacks consults with two of his students while at work in the attic of the house. He was responsible for the direction of all phases of the building.

The very observant Kathy Finch tells her date Dan Oliver, that there are goldfish in the water fountain.

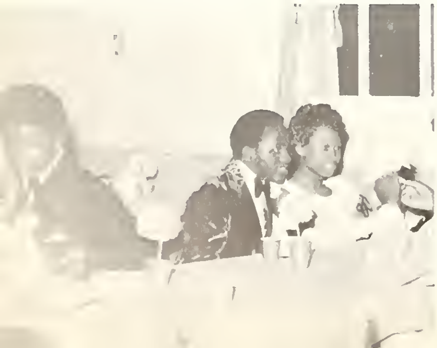
Dan Spencer lovingly holds his prom date, Debbie Burtman, as they dance to the music of Eddie Knight and his Orchestra.

LOVE STORY Theme Sets Juniors' Mood For Dancing

With a setting of fountains, flowers, and artificial trees, the Indiana Club became the scene for the Class of 1972's Junior Prom. Those who went to the Prom will always remember the evening of May 7, as a time filled with the pleasant music of Eddie Knight's Orchestra. The Juniors selected "Where Do I Begin" as the Prom's theme along with pastel colors as the decoration colors. The Juniors will never forget this evening.

As Mike Deka asks Judi Carroll for the next dance, Vicki Zoludow and Tom VanLaere decide to sit it out.

Lloyd Middlebrook and his date pleasantly chat during the memorable evening of the Junior Prom, held at the Indiana Club.



Laughter and smiles were always evident at the Junior Prom and James Lane, Mike Mays, and Tom Vann are no exceptions.

As the Prom nears an end, Senior, Mandy Manczunski, passes out a small souvenir to Debbie Zmsylo and Linda Basil as a remembrance of their delightful evening.

With centerpieces, cameras, and bouquets surrounding them, Ed Roose and his date, Mary Mass, seriously converse with their friends while having some refreshments at their table.

Chaperones, Virginia Black and her husband, stop and talk for a while with Juniors, Gayle Smith and Candi Birchfield.

Kevin Bikowski slams a long homer against Riley. Bikowski was picked as All-Conference third baseman for the second year in a row.

Panthers Lose Eight By One Run For Frustrating Turn-A-Round Season

Pick Bikowski All Conference For 2nd Year

The 1971 Panthers played the area's best teams on even terms but suffered many narrow defeats. Eight losses were by one run and two were by two runs. Captain Brian Lindorf led the team in action as many Seniors manned key positions. Wayne Wielgos was the team's leading hitter with a .351 average and was voted the Most Valuable Player. Kevin Bikowski was named to the All Conference team at third base.

Coach Pat Gullifor listens patiently to Umpire Jim Remble's explanation of a play ruling.

Shortstop Bob Ginter sets to fire to first to retire a LaPorte runner as Wayne Wielgos is ready for a possible force at second. Three year veterans Ginter and Bikowski gave Washington a solid left side of the infield.

Second baseman Wayne Wielgos strokes out another hit for the Panthers. Wayne was selected as the Most Valuable Player on a vote by his teammates and was the team's leading hitter with a .351 mark.

Right hander Dave Freeman delivers a high hard one. Juniors Freeman and Chris Coughlin were the backbone of the Panther pitching staff and turned in very low earned run averages while losing many low score ball games.

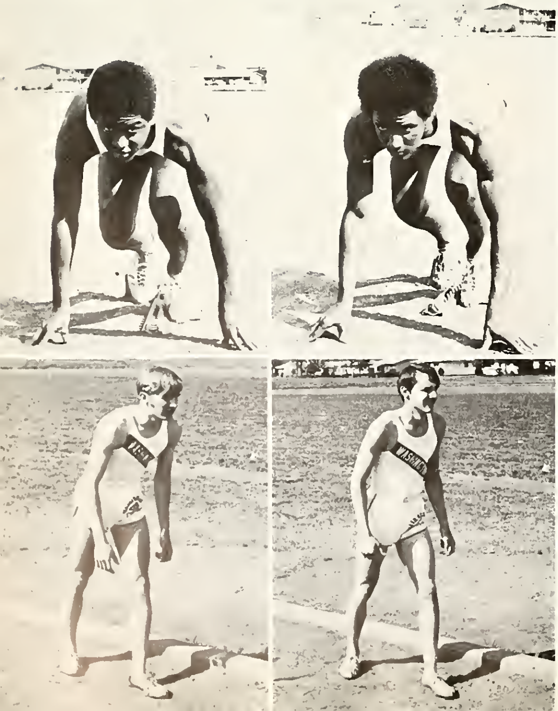
Dean Jackson matches stride with LaPorte's best hurdler on way to a narrow victory in the Northern Indiana Conference Meet. Dean was a consistent winner in both high and low hurdle events during the season despite a foot injury. Dean's hurdle victory and Woody Sconier's come-from-behind win in the 440 enabled the Washington Track Team to place second in the Conference Meet.



Sprinters Dennis Giden and Tommy Vann are congratulated after placing one-two in the hundred yard dash. Freshman Mike Miller is in the background. Mike won many points in varsity competition for WHS.

Jackson, Sconiers Outstanding

The 1971 Washington Track Team captured the South Bend City Track Meet for the third consecutive year. Coach Bob Van Camp's cindermen were led by Woody Sconiers and Dean Jackson. Both were consistent double winners in meets all season long. Sconiers had the area's best long jump distance and was a regular 440 dash winner. Jackson usually swept both hurdle events. Dennis Giden and Tommy Vann added Panther strength in the sprints and relays. Woody Sconiers was elected team Captain and voted Most Valuable Trackman by his teammates. The WHS track team also tied for second in the Conference and Sectional Meets in addition to winning the City Meet. The Freshman Track Team won the city title for the second year in a row and for the seventh time in the last nine years. With only four Seniors on the squad, the next years should show a continuance of Washington's track domination in the area.

Washington's ace Woody Sconiers nips Elkhart's top quarter miler at the wire in a thrilling finish for the Conference 440 Championship. Woody was a consistent winner in this event as well as being our best long jumper.

Don Watson braves the rain while attending a track meet at Washington. Watson is at almost every sporting event.

Don Watson is Washington's most concerned and most loyal fan. He attends almost all the athletic events at WHS each year. He not only sees the major varsity teams in action but also the minor sports and the freshman and B-teams. As an English teacher, Watson has adopted Washington as the No. 1 school in his heart. Don is the head of the Booster Club and organizes the Panther followers in a combined effort to back our teams. Few alumni have his loyalty and spirit.

John Bucholtz shows off his golf swing. John had a 77 average and shot a record low 71.

The 1971 Washington High School golf team was one of the finest in the school's history. However, because of the keen competition the the area, the WHS record does not show the high quality of golfers on our team. John Bucholtz was the Most Valuable Golfer as well as low average man for Coach Gene Dziubinski.

The whole Sea Nymphs cast joins in for the closing number: "Give My Regards To Broadway". Twenty-six girls swam in the show.

Gary Cwidak served as M.C. in announcing the various show tunes which were the background music for the water ballets.

Debbie Dean and Curt Krouse perform a swim duet to the theme music from "Love Story". The routine was one of the highlights of the show.

Kerosene flames illuminated the stirring rendition of "Super Star" as the swimmers moved in time through the darkened waters. Other Broadway musical scores served as themes for different swim routines.

On June 3rd, 4th, and 5th, the Washington High School Sea Nymphs presented an outstanding swim show in the natatorium. Entitled "A Night On Broadway", the show was a collection of synchronized swim numbers based on the music of popular Broadway tunes. Susan Good and Kristi Clary were the faculty directors. Twenty-six girls performed water ballets to such songs as: "No Business Like Show Business", "Can Can", "Sound Of Music", "Camelot", and "Super Star". The closing number of "Give My Regards To Broadway" brought down the curtain on one of the best water shows ever at WHS.

Sea Nymphs Present Hit Show

Barry Kolvas and Lori Anderson plan to take some candid photos.

Roy Harris, Dolly Vann, Thelma Shead, Calvin Johnson, Betty Kirkendoll, Ozzie Paskell, Maurice Moody, and Lynn Moody enjoy themselves at their Senior Prom table. Many couples find that by bringing cameras, they can retain memories of the Prom.

On May 15 the Senior Class was proud to present its final prom. The doors of the Indiana Club swung open to an enchanted garden. Tiny wishing wells adorned the delicately colored tablecloths. At the back of the room a fenced-in lawn surrounded a life-size wishing well covered with flower blossoms. For a refreshing break between dances, cookies, pretzels, mints, and punch were served. The climax of the Prom came as everyone danced to the theme song, "We've Only Just Begun", played by "The Continentals." The fun of the evening just began with the Prom and continued with the afterprom which was held at Cooper Center and extended to the sand dunes of Tower Hill the following day. From all the memories of school activities the Senior Prom will truly be remebered the most.

A variety of tropical fruit, punch, and snacks were some of the different refreshments that Ester Martinez could chose from.

Senior Prom Ends Year As Students Celebrate "We've Only Just Begun"

As Mary Maeyens and John Pietraszewski prepare to have some refreshments, Julie Gable and Randy Futa approach the table with the same thought in mind.

Mary Ann Skubis relates a funny experience to Janine Andrysiak, while the eyes of James Watts gaze intently on another subject.

Slow dances, being the favorites at proms, give Sophie Jasinski and her date a chance to enjoy the romantic mood that the music sets.

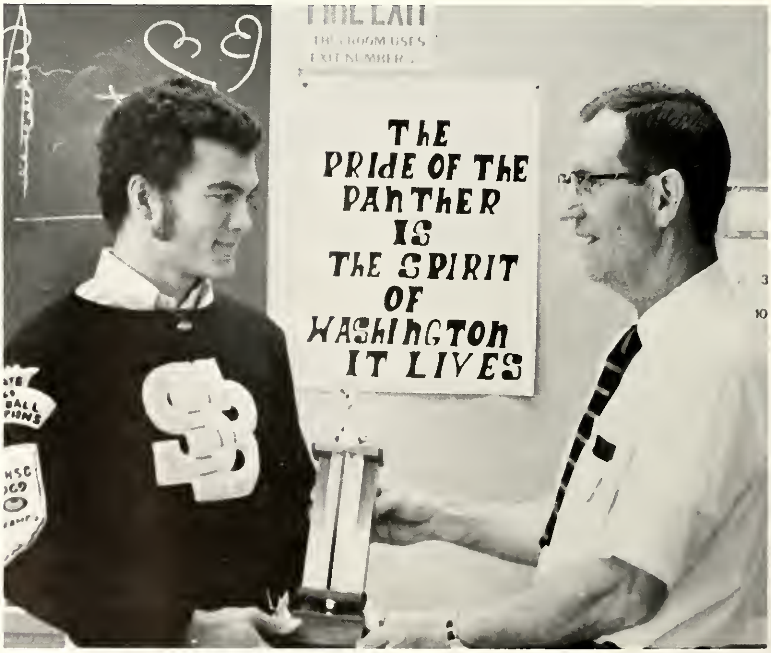
Pausing near their table, Terry Budney and Pat Overmyer laugh with friends Doug Reinhold and Sue Gaczkowski over an unusual sight that occurred on the dance floor.

Kevin Bikowski, Pam Bonkowski Named Top Citizens

Each year, Washington High School brings its academic year to a close with the Senior Awards Assembly. Awards are presented to outstanding Seniors in various subject areas and for many extra curricular services. Named as the 1971 Top Citizens of WHS by the Senior class and faculty were Pam Bonkowski and Kevin Bikowski. Sophie Jasinski was given the D.A.R. Citizenship Award. The Senior class officers presented the class gifts and the class scrapbook was given over.

Terry Kosinski addresses the student body during Seniors Honors Assembly. Terry was named Salutatorian of Washington's 1971 graduating class.

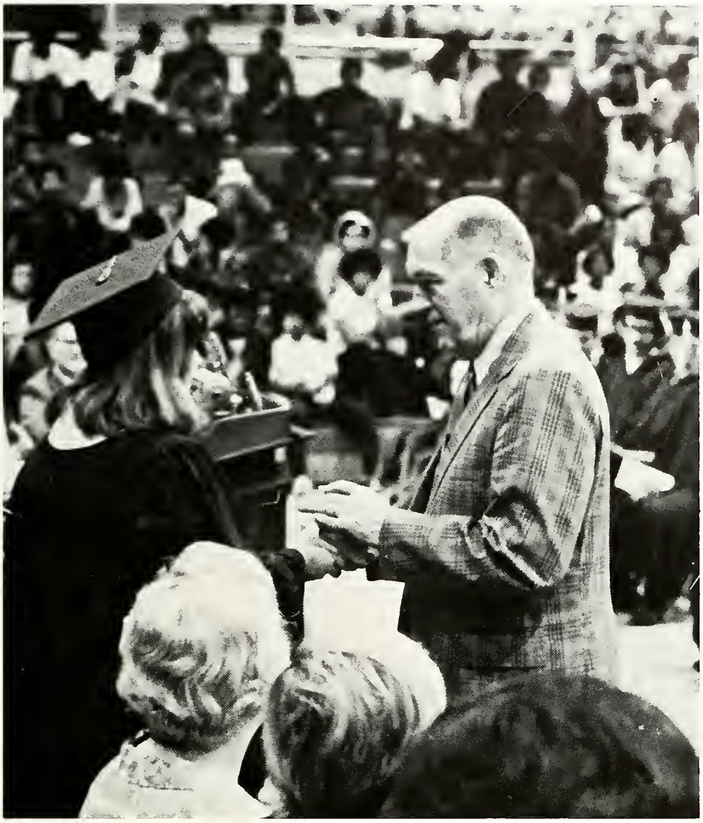
Mary Ann Eddins happily receives her award as the Homemaker of Tomorrow. Home Economics department head Patricia McCollough makes the presentation. Various departments at WHS present awards to outstanding Senior students in each subject area and for service activities.



THE PRIDE OF THE PANTHER IS THE SPIRIT OF WASHINGTON IT LIVES

Rick Zalas receives the Most Outstanding Athlete trophy from Athletic Director Joe Redling. Rick was named as WHS' top athlete for 1971 by a vote of the head coaches. During the past four years, Rick has competed in football, wrestling, and baseball.

Senior Class Sponsor Clare Holley accepts a gift from class officer Peggy Kelley. The Seniors presented gifts to their Sponsors in gratitude for the interest and work they gave to the Seniors and their activities. Norma Hoffman was the Co-Sponsor this past year.



Levan Van Paris and Vickey Pine receive congratulations from Assistant Principal Ed Pilarski for having perfect attendance at WHS for four years. Kathy Buszkiewicz and Cheryl Hafer also received recognition for perfect attendance.

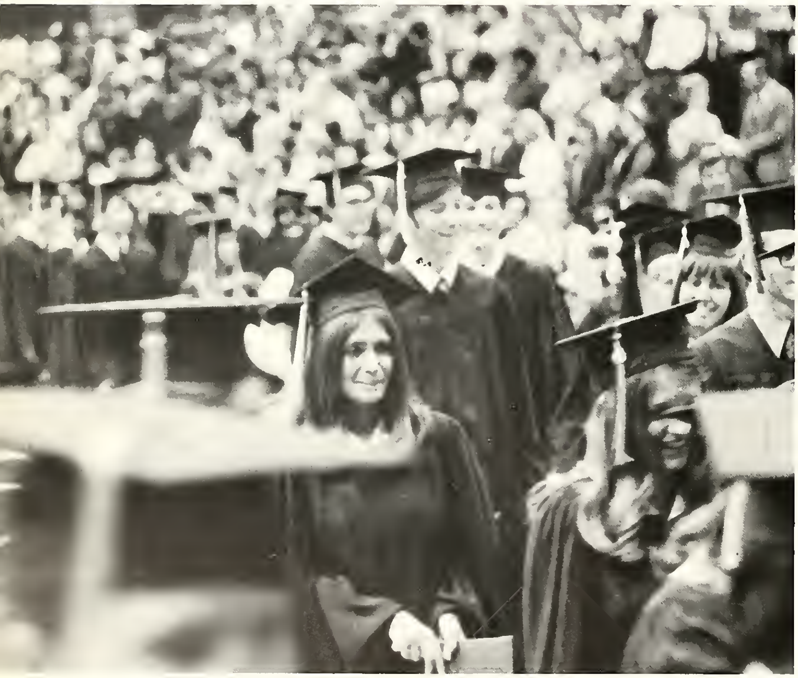
Outstanding Seniors Honored At Final Assembly

Mr. McKnight, representative of the Urban League, presents a scholarship award to Pat Lane. Pat was also a recipient of a scholarship from Delta Sigma Theta Sorority.

Historian Bonnie Barker presents the class scrapbook to Mr. Thompson.

School Board member Paul Ivankovig awards the long-sought diploma to Becky Kapsa as Assistant Principal Ed Pilarski reads the names of the 1971 graduates.

The long line of graduates file across the stage while receiving their diplomas. WHS graduated 399 Seniors this year.



"A time for tears, a time for joy," are the final emotions shown by Sophie Jasinski and Randy Emerick as they leave the gymnasium. All our Seniors will always remember "Graduation Days".

With tears running down her face, Barb Swain bursts forth her feeling that the end has finally come. Commencement is the last time that the whole class will ever be together as a group.

On June 8, 1971, the Washington High School gymnasium was filled to capacity for the thirty-fourth annual Commencement exercises. Graduates, parents, relatives, friends, and faculty came together to honor the Class of 1971.

The Senior year leads up to the long-awaited day of graduation which is a happy yet sad time when Seniors look back on their past four years at Washington and also toward the future. He looks back on the football games, class parties, studies, proms, and "Senioritis". The last night of the Senior year was filled with nostalgia and ceremony when 399 Seniors received their long-sought diplomas. Joy and tears were among the final emotions displayed. Graduation was a night to be long remembered and the last occasion for the Seniors before they continued moving "EVER ONWARD"

Commencement Starts 1971 Seniors On Their Move "Ever Onward"

Co-Valedictorian Louis Hegyi presents his message to the graduates calling for involvement in a peaceful solution to the problems of our society.

Michael Sergeant gives his parting thoughts to the Class of 1971. As Co-Valedictorian, Mike appeals for the Seniors to take their place in life.

Ray Patnaude, Master of Photography, does all of the official photographing for Washington High School. His excellence in photography can be seen in all of his work. Students always smile at the call of "More Fun".

For excellence in photography, McDONALD'S STUDIO, on the northwest corner of Michigan and Colfax streets, offers the best quality for your money. McDONALD'S aims to please.
